PLAN TO HOLD RACE MEETS IN COSHOCTON

President, Roy Overholt
Vice president, Fred Strauss
Secretary, Blaine Shaeffer
Treasurer, Arthur Loos
Captain, Donald Renner
Lieutenant, James Stanford

Would Hold Meets

The above is the result of the annual election of the Coshocton Motorcycle club held Monday in the quarters in the Hay building. During the business session, plans were discussed looking towards holding a series of racing meets in this city during the coming summer as well as a number of trips in which the members of the club will participate.

Plan Racing Circuit

A committee was named to consult Mayor Cassingham and the fair board with reference to the proposed racing meets. Plans are under way for the organization of a racing circuit to be composed of five cities, including Coshocton. The other cities in the proposed circuit would be: Zanesville, Newark, Marietta and Mansfield. This would give each city a meet every fifth Sunday. The races would be held under the rules of the Federation of American Motorcyclists, one of which provides for no wheel over 4 h. p. in races on half-mile tracks. The Coshocton track is conceded to be the best one in the proposed circuit and some of the best riders in this section would doubtless be attracted to the local races.

One Dry Vote in Zoar Town

The Massillon Independent Friday comments on the local option election here Thursday as follows: "Strangers within the gates of Zoar will not find it necessary during the next three years to seek whispered instructions, grope through dark passages to securely bolted doors, rap three times, pass a rigid inspection and then tiptoe to an eight-gallon keg standing on a cake of ice in a darkened room in order to murmur 'Gesundheit,' and lubricate the oesophagus.

"Tuscarawas county, made famous by Zoar, voted wet Thursday. Zioar cast one dry vote."

"Who was the guilty one (?)"

W. S. Evans of Mansfield spent Monday in Coshocton as a business visitor.

SIXTH ST. PLACE RAIDED BY COPS

Ernest Middy Arrested Sunday and May be Called Upon to Face "Bootlegging" Charge

Ernest Middy of North Sixth street was arrested at his home on North Sixth street Sunday by Special Officer Abe Lund and Patrolman Courtright and taken to the city prison where, it is said, a charge if "bootlegging" will be placed against him.

Middy, is said, to have been operating a "speakeasy" for some time at his house and, it is said, the string of people Sunday going into the place led to its being watched and later the arrest.

On "Swan Island"

Middy was loaded into an automobile and hurried to the jail. Whether any goods were found or just what evidence the police have against him, if any, is not known.

From reports, it seems, that North Sixth street, in places, is becoming famous for its "wet" spots when the lid is on the legitimate saloons. It is understood that a woman is operating a place not far from Middy's old stand and that beers and liquors of all kinds are to be had.

Middy will probably be arraigned this morning in mayor's court.

"MISTAKEN IDENTITY" MAKES DISTINCT HIT

Did you see "Mistaken Identity" at the Sixth Street theatre yesterday afternoon and night?

If you didn't you missed something. And it outclassed in a walk away, average home talent "misfits." The play was sprinkled with real, funny situations, which, thanks to the cast, were "got off" funny.

And the Delta Chapter Quartet of Columbus made good with a loud report. They were not amateurs but artists. Messrs Picketing, Barton, Taylor and McCartney who compose the quartet wore themselves out responding to encores.

The local Alpha Pi boys under whose auspices the show was given did themselves famous. Frank E. Strasser, the "masquerader," Elbert Smith, the professor, Hugh B. Rogers, the major, Jas A. McGarity, the "nigger," Harold Bechtol, "cause of it all," Miss Helen McFarland as Majorie Haviland, Florence Powelson, as "Miss Jim," Miss Helen Temple, as "Mrs. Popp," Miss Kate Temple, as "Ma" and Eugene Judd as "Billy" acted as if born to the parts. The other members of the cast just fit tehir line. Paul H. Welcker, knows how to turn out real actors. His thorough training was evidenced by the hit the show made. The theatre was filled and the audience frequently burst forth in storms of applause.

Angry Mob Kills Negro with Haichet

Baltimore, Md., Dec 25—King David, a negro who was held for the murder of Fred Schwab, a white man, was taken from the jail at Brooklyn, a suburb of this city today by a mob of seven men. After beating the negro's head to a jelly with a hatchet, the mob fired five bullets through his heart and left him lying by the side of a lonely road.

Will Study in European University

Dr and Mrs J. S. Seerest yesterday received word that their son, Paul E. Seerest, a student at Boston University, has been awarded the Jacob Sleeper fellowship which entitles him to a year's study in an European University.

Mr. Seerest is a graduate of Ohio Wesleyane University, 1907, and for the past four years has been studying at Boston University. It is probable that he will spend his year abroad in one of the universities of Germany.

Dr Seerest and his family have but recently come to Coshocton but in that time they have made many friends who are interested in the news of their son's splendid success and will hasten to extend their congratulations.

Assures Barkeep He is 21

Will the fact that a minor assured the bartender that he is 21 years of age, save another local saloonist from paying a fine?

Monday night, a complaint reached the authorities that a minor had purchased a glass of beer in a Main street saloon. The youth was quizzed by the police and did not deny that he had bought the drink but insisted on holding the bartender blameless. No charges had been filed last night, therefore the names of the parties concerned are withheld.

THE WEATHER

FOR OHIO—Cloudy Tuesday with snow or rain at night and Wednesday.

Robert Boyd Finlay Dies at Roscoe Home

With the death of Robert Boyd Finlay, which occurred Sunday morning at seven o'clock at the family home in Roscoe Coshocton county lost one of her most highly respected citizens. Mr. Finlay had been in ill health for the past year as the result of a severe attack of la grippe which he suffered late in January, 1911. For months he was a sufferer from tri-facial neuralgia and six weeks ago underwent an operation for this which proved successful and he was improving satisfactorily when two weeks ago the rheumatic condition affected his knee and caused him considerable suffering. His condition was not considered alarming, however until near the last when a complication of heart trouble hastened the end, which came at an early hour Sunday morning.

The death is particularly sad since Mr. Finlay was encouraged about his condition and was anticipating the family reunion on Christmas when the family was to gather at the parent's home for a reunion and a happy Christmas celebration.

Robert Boyd Finlay, was 67 years of age. He was born and reared in Coshocton county and the greater part of his life was spent on a farm in Bethlehem township. Seven years ago the family moved to Roscoe and Mr. Finlay retired from active life.

He was from early manhood a loyal member of the Keene Methodist church. He was a man who was at all times identified with every movement for good in the community where he lived and the influence of his quiet, devoted Christian life will live long after him and will continue to be an inspiration to all who were so fortunate as to count him as a friend.

Mr. Finlay was married to Isabelle Love of Holmes county in October 1868. His widow with two sons, Edward who resides on the home farm in Bethlehem township, and Hugh of Roscoe survive. An only daughter Mable died 12 years ago. Two sisters, Mrs John Avant of Chicago and Mrs. Jane Finlay of Kenton, Ohio also survive.

The funeral services will be held from the late home in Roscoe this morning at 10:30 o'clock and the cortege will proceed to the Keene Methodist cemetery where interment will take place. The Rev. Chilton pastor of the Trinway Methodist church, and former pastor of the Keene church, will officiate.

The two sisters, Mrs. Avant of Chicago, Mrs. Jane Finlay and her son Clarence Finlay of Kenton arrived yesterday to attend the funeral.

Piano is Presented to Church

SPLENDID XMAS GIFT FOR ROSCOE M. E. CHURCH BY MR. AND MRS. HOWARD PRICE.

When Rev. R. F. Whitehurst of the Roscoe M. E. church Sunday morning, in a very touching presentation speech, told the congregation that their long cherished desire to have a piano had been fulfilled by Mr. and Mrs. Howard Price, members of the church, there was not a dry eye.

For a long time the members of the Church have cherished a hope that they might some day own a piano. Mr. and Mrs. Price who have been residents of Roscoe for the past 18 years and members of the church, thought the matter over sometime ago and decided that they would, regardless of the personal sacrifice it meant, present a piano to the church as a Christmas gift.

"Moore Blessed to Give"

Sunday morning at the close of a sermon, in which the spirit of giving and the joys attending were strongly brought out by Rev. Whitehurst, the audience was brought to tears when the minister announced the gift. Mr. and Mrs. Price were overcome as well as the others. Both declared they never fully knew before how much truth was contained in—"It is more blessed to give than to receive."

Vote of Thanks

Following the presentation by Rev. Whitehurst, the audience in a rising vote expressed their appreciation.

According to the pastor, a more touching and impressive scene never took place in the Roscoe church. The circumstances under which it was given, the sacrifice that it meant and taking all in all, a more whole hearted, whole souled gift can hardly be imagined.

No Clue to Identity of Victim

Although local authorities have been busy two days wiring different parts of the country in an endeavor to learn the identity of the shoe string peddler, who was ground to death under the wheels of a Pennsy freight train at Morgan Run, Sunday morning, so far their efforts have gone unrewarded.

When the unknown victim was taken to Wolfe's morgue Sunday morning following the accident, it was discovered that he had a peculiarly crippled hand and it was thought with this identification mark, the authorities would stand in a fair way of locating relatives or friends. It appears now, from the fruitless search, that he is like thousands of other unfortunates who tramp the country; has no home and will be given a township burial.

Fox Chase at Spring Mountain

A number of hunters of the Spring Mountain enjoyed a fox chase Monday night.

Several Sir Reynolds were started and a number of interesting chases followed. The party consisted of about fifteen experienced hunters who started the chase accompanied by twenty-five dogs. The hunt started at North Hill about two miles from Spring Mountain and continued toward the north for about eight miles.

AN XMAS GIFT

An eight pound Christmas package arrived Sunday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Drake, Eleventh and Chestnut streets. It was a bright eyed baby girl.

Coshocton will be Represented

At Convention of Delegates from Ohio Cities to be Held in Columbus January 24 and 25

For the purpose of considering some of the important problems effecting the government of Ohio cities and recommending to the coming constitutional convention, provisions it is desired to have incorporated in the new constitution, delegates from the 84 cities of Ohio will meet at Columbus January 24 and 25. According to a dispatch from Columbus Monday, a call has been issued by the Municipal Association of Cleveland to the mayors-elect of all the cities of over 5,000 population to select delegates. The delegates will be apportioned among the cities, according to population. Coshocton, with a population of 9,603, will be given four delegates, while cities between 5,000 and 7,500 get three delegates. Cleveland will have 18 delegates, Cincinnati 15 and Columbus 12. The dispatch is as follows:

Release December 26

Columbus, Jan. 24 and 25, 1912.—A call has been issued by the Municipal Association of Cleveland, the oldest civic organization in the state, for a conference in January of delegates from the 84 cities of Ohio over 5,000 population. The call is endorsed by the mayors-elect of the first ten cities. The number of delegates, appointed on the basis of size, will be 364. The conference will probably last two days.

A personal letter was yesterday mailed to each mayor-elect asking him to name the delegates from his city. It was suggested that they be selected partly from officials and partly from citizens interested in civic affairs.

"The conference is to be absolutely non partisan," said Mayor Fesler, Secretary, in speaking of the plans. "It is a meeting to consider the needs of the cities of the cities of the state and to determine how the cities can co-operate for their own welfare. An effort will be made to get an expression of state wide sentiment on what provisions the cities want included in the new constitution."

"When we consider that more than fifty per cent of the population of Ohio resides in cities it would seem that they should have some voice in determining their own form if government."

"The Mayors of the first ten cities have shown a keen interest in the plans for the conference."

Mistletoe and Holly Received from Carolina

The Tribune acknowledges receipt of a bouquet of holly and mistletoe from Rev. J. H. Murphey, who is at present serving as a missionary among the mountaineers of North Carolina. Rev. Murphey is located at Almond, N. C., where he is busy looking after both the physicial and spiritual welfare of poor mountaineers. A donation of books and clothing was sent to him from this city a week ago, to be distributed among his charges.

William Maxwell of Second street generously distributed Christmas gifts to his tenants yesterday. Mr. Maxwell's gifts included twenty-five sacks of flour and one hundred sacks of fine candies.

Dean Law is Unsound Says Hogan

Columbus, O., Dec 25—No matter what the decision of the supreme court is in the suit to test the constitutionality of the Dean character saloon law, the case will be taken to the United States supreme court, according to a statement of Attorney General Hogan.

The case comes from Stark county, where a saloonist was fined $100 for making a false answer under the law. Through his attorneys, he attacks the validity of the act. General Hogan is of the opinion that the law is unsound.

ILLEGAL VOTING IS CHARGED

New Philadelphia, O., Dec. 25.—Attorney George W. Reed drys manager in the recent campaign, made a statement in Uhrichsville Saturday morning that he has positive evidence that there was considerable illegal voting in Warwick and Rush township Thursday. In one instance, he says, there were several wagonloads of foreigners hauled from the mines to a voting place in Warwick township, and that the man who hauled them was paid so much per man.

Reed says he will take the evidence in his possession to Attorney General Hogan, and ask for an opinion. If the Kimble corrupt practices act has been violated, in the mind of Hogan, then those connected with the alleged violation will be summoned before the January grand jury.

SPLINTER CAUSED MAN TO LOSE FINGER

Newark—Frank Deck, a car cleaner at the Baltimore & Ohio depot, while at work a few days ago had a splinter find lodgment in one of his fingers. Nothing was thought of the matter at the time, but the finger soon began to swell and gave him excruciating pain. The swelling increased and it was deemed best to amputate the finger yesterday.

Two More Gas Wells are Almost Complete

Satisfactory progres is being made in the drilling of two gas wells in the vicinity of the mouth of Kilbuck, and barring accidents the wells should be drilled in this afternoon or tomorrow morning.

The drilling was started last Friday, and the wells on both the Mullet and Frederick farms are already drilled down more than 500 feet, leaving only about 200 feet more to drill.

The prospects for these two wells are excellent, since the test on the Mullet farm is being drilled into the same gas pocket that a 500,000 cu. ft. per day well was drilled and the well on the Frederick farm will be drilled only about 100 feet from another well that will produce almost a half million cu. ft. per day.

COL. BARGER NEW SAFETY DIRECTOR

Col. Byron Barger, a native of Coshocton county, has been honored by Mayor-elect George Karb of Columbus by appointment to the office of director of public safety. Col. Barger has been one of the Capitol City's most prominent citizens for years and Mr. Karb's choice for the important post in his cabinet is conceded to be an excellent one. A brief biography of the Colonel, appearing in the Columbus Dispatch will be of interest to his hosts of Coshocton county friends. It is as follows:

Two score and four

Colonel Barger, who is 44 years old, was born in Coshocton county, and has lived in Columbus since 1884. In 1896 he married Miss Florence Neil, daughter of Colonel H. M. Neil and granddaughter of William Neil, who built the Neil house seventy-one years ago. They have four children.

Graduate C. H. S.

Colonel Barger attended the Coshocton schools until he was 17 years of age. After completing a high school course his additional studies were varied by ranch life in New Mexico, a trip to Europe and Cuba and participated in the Oklahoma rush of 1889. After eight months in the new country he went to the Yale law school, finishing the course there in 1892.

Becomes Lawyer

He continued his studies in Columbus in the office of his father, Gilbert H. Barger, and was admitted to the bar in 1893. He has been in active practice since that time, except in 1898. In April of that year he recruited in Columbus a troop of voluntary cavalry, which he commanded until October 23, 1898. He has been in command of the Fourth infantry, O. N. G., since 1908.

In Fraternal Circles

He holds membership in the Loyal Legion, Ohio State and Franklin County Bar associations, Spanish War Veterans, Sons of the American Revolution, Mt. Vernon Commandary, K. T., Aladin Temple, Mystic Shrine and several civic societies. He has been a member of Governor Harmon's official family since early in 1909, when he was made secretary of the Ohio State Armory board of the National Guard.

PETITIONS FILED IN WASHINGTON

Marietta, O., Dec 25—The Washington County Tax Law and Order league Saturday night filed petitions with the county commissioners with nearly 5,000 names attached, requesting the holding of a local option election on January 13. Fourteen petitions did not reach the city in time for filing Saturday night. They would have increased the total signatures to more than 6,000. The total vote of the county is 9,500.

LASS WALKS FROM WINDOW IN SLEEP

Springfield, O., 25—Dreaming of fairies, Irene Donald aged 12, got out of bed during the night at the Odd Fellows' home, walked out of the window and fell 15 feet to the cement pavement. She walked back into the house and was going past the night watchman when he discovered her. He assisted her to her room. She was still in a dazed condition when she awakened in the morning. An examination did not disclose any injuries.

LITTLE BABE IS SMOTHERED IN BED

Lancaster—Gerald, the 11-weeks-old son of Ernest Turley, was found dead in bed and it is thought that it was smothered to death. The mother discovered the dead baby lying by her side.

Pres. Taft in Role of Santa Claus

Washington, Dec 23—President Taft played Santa Claus today to two score policemen, more than twenty clerks and secret service men who are on guard at the executive offices, and dozens of other employes of the White house. To each policeman and married man employed about the White House outside the office force, the steward presented a fat turkey with the compliments of the president and Mrs. Taft. Each clerk today found an envelope with a $5 gold piece in it on his desk.

The president himself acted as Santa Claus for the secret service men who have traveled with him from Boston to Seattle, from Washington to Panama and on many other journeys. Each guard was given a gold stickpin.

One present for Mr Taft himself that had reached the White House came from Postmaster Douglas at Tuscaloosa, Alabama. It was a 45 pound turkey, one of the biggest ever sent to grace the presidential Christmas dinner.

Newman was allowed to go home, as were the other jurors while the judge prepared instructions in the case. The juror talked with his wife about the danger of making mistakes, and going to bed shot himself.

Verses on "Mothers" Christmas Present

—BY WILLIAM W. SHAW.

Inspired by an editorial in The Cleveland Press, Mr. William W. Shaw, a well known Coshocton traveling salesman, composed the following verses:

MOTHER'S CHRISTMAS PRESENT.

The silvery gleam of the moon on the snow
Bejeweled like diamonds, the plain,
As Santa Claus drew up his reindeer and sled
By the house at the end of the lane.
A little bit late was old Santa this night,
For surely there never before
Had been such a lot of good boys and girls
To provide for from out of his store.
Although very tired and a little bit cross,
This chimney he never could miss,
For had n't he called here on each Christmas eve
For four winters previous to this?
The first year a rattle and small woolen cap
Had been left for the sweet little tot,
With next year a Teddy bear covered with fur
And of candy and nuts, such a lot.
Then a picture book, jacket and real winter shoes,
And last year a drum and a sled,
While tonight he had brought in his generous pack
Enough gifts to turn any boy's head.
For this little friend of old Santa's was good,
Unselfish, so sweet, undefiled,
And nothing on earth pleases Santa so much
As a loving and dutiful child.
He smiled with delight as he thought of the lad
And the pleasures the morrow would bring,
As into the chimney his body he squeezed
And dropped to the hearth with a bing!
He emerged from the grate but to find the room cold;
No fire, and but feebly the light
Of a struggling moonbeam penetrated the gloom,
Revealing a counterpane white.
The little bed stood where it always had stood,
But where was the jacket and waist,
The panties and shoes and the little wool cap;
Could it be they had been misplaced?
Now, silently, Santa tiptoed near the bed;
It was empty; oh what could it mean?
The jacket and gown lay folded with care
On the pillows so spotless and clean.
The Teddy bear lay on his face prone and still.
A tin soldier stood silent on guard,
By his side two wee shoes worn through at the toes,
A picture book, top and a card.
Behind every chair and in under the bed
Santa peeped through the crack of a door
Which was standing but slightly ajar.
A few dying embers burned low in the grate,
Before it, sad-eyed sat a man,
While the sputtering coals illumined the face,
Allowing good Santa to scan
Haggard features that gazed in the embers and read
In kaleidoscope shapes in the fire
The remembrance of joys all too happy to last,
Joys the greatest to which men aspire.
He was living again in the days of the past;
He was pressing a kiss to the face
Of his baby; the white arms encircled his neck
As of yore in a tender embrace.
He was hearing the songs, the laughter and shouts
The embers grown weaker, the vision has passed.
And submissive he bows to God's will.
And kneeling beside him, her arms and her head
Pillowed fast in the lap of the man.
Was a woman heart-broken who held her lips pressed
To a dear little stocking of tan.
Then old Santa Claus wept, for he now understood,
And so, softly closing the door,
He scratched his old head in an effort to think
For fully ten minutes or more.
At last he excitedly dived in his pack
And brought forth a beautiful card
With a text worked in letters of crimson and gold
Tied with ribbon, at least a full yard.
Tiptoeing, he laid it where always before
Had rested that dear little head.
Then quietly mounting the chimney again
He dashed out of sight in his sled.
The fire in the grate dwindled low and expired.
The man sank to sleep in his chair;
With her eyes on the mantel the woman arose
And sighed at a nail driven there.
She clasped baby's stocking close, close to her breast,
Stole softly away in the gloom,
And op'ning the door she passed silently through
To her darling's untenanted room.
Behold! on the pillow the card she discerned;
Dear Santa had called as of yore!
To bring blessed hope from the Father above
And bind up the wounds that were sore.
She read as he paused by the side of the bed
In the moonlight but dim and uneven:
"Suffer little children to come unto me,
For such is the kingdom of heaven."

William W. Shaw.

CAME TO COSHOCTON

in the stores kept by Mr. Medberry, Seth McClain and John G. Stewart.

"In the Country"

Mrs. McCabe remembers the time when there was not a house in Coshocton from the railroad station to the Burt home on Burt avenue and not from that to the Hesket home on Combridge road, and she also remembers the time when Walnut street, near Park avenue was considered "in the country." The building of the county court house, the county jail, and all the churches in the city, with the exception of the old Catholic church and she has much of interest to tell in regard to the worship of the people of her faith in those early days. At times service was held in the old court house and at times in the old white church in Roscoe until the time of the building of the old Catholic church on Third street

Wonderful Change

To those who know Coshocton as it is today it would seem scarcely possible that a brief half century could bring about the wonderful changes that have come in making our little city of a country village—but perhaps there are others who, if they were blessed with the same memory and the same keen interest in their fellowmen that is characteristic of Mrs. McCabe, might possibly recall equally interesting facts about our "pioneer days."

Helped Build Court House

John McCabe Sr., was an expert stone mason and did much of the work on the present court house and jail at the time of their erection. Mrs. McCabe's brother-in-law John Donley built the log-house that is still in use on the Joseph Woods farm on the Plainfield road. A clearing was made in the woods and the house built of the logs—the farm at that time belonged to Thomas Ricketts. Mrs. McCabe has throughout her life been a devoted member of the Methodist church, now the Salvation Army citadel, on Third street and the old German church now an apartment on Locust street, is also within the range of her memory.

Mrs. Etta Glosser and Miss Josephine Wheeler of Conesville will spend Christmas with Mrs. Glosser's daughter, Mrs. Frank George of Lorain.

VICTORY IN DEFEAT

In terms of the boys on the street, "They've got Shuster's goat" over in Persia. At the dictates of St. Petersburg he has been unceremoniously fired as Treasurer General of Persia. Nine-tenths of the people who called him to his present position are still enthusiastically for his retention, but the word has gone out from St. Petersburg that he must go, and go he will.

There wasn't a thing in the world the matter with Morgan Shuster, American Citizen. He isn't dismissed because of any act of dishonesty, but because he was too honest. His throw down doesn't come about because he has "soldiered" on the job, but because he has been too vigorous, too straightforward, too business-like in the administration of the trust Persia imposed in him.

Under such conditions it is an honor to have won the ill-will of the Russian government. With the record Shuster established it is to his credit that the most corrupt of all "Christian" governments has learned to hate him with a cordial hatred. With the consciousness of duty well performed he can well afford to return to his native land after having won a defeat so glorious.

Shuster's most unpardonable sin after taking charge of the Persian government, was to cut off certain Russian and British military and civil officials from the graft they had long been enjoying at the expense of the Persian taxpayers. When the Persians felt the relief from the financial burden and noted that the affairs of government were running even more smoothly than they had before, they naturally hailed the young American as a deliverer.

Russia set him down as a troublesome interferer, a meddlesome agitator and an all-around "undesirable citizen." All of which he was from the Russian viewpiont. And the really surprising feature of the whole situation is not that Shuster should have incurred the ill-will of Russia at the outset of his administration, for that was to be expected, but that England should give tacit and secret approval of the course Russia followed in getting rid of him.

But after all, Shuster might have met the same fate in public life here in America he has met at the hands of corrupt Russia in far-away Persia. His resistance of the "powers-that-be" here; his rigid administration of the public trust imposed on him; his undeviating honesty; his abhorrence of graft and his perpetual warfare on it under whatsoever guise it might assume, would result in about the same fight being made on him here at home that has been made in a distant quarter of the world.

He would have been dubbed "agitator" in America about as quickly as he has in Persia. He would be despised by the same classes here that despise him there. But he would have the respect of the masses of the people here the same as he has there and he would have the approval of his own conscience which after all, is about the only real reward possible of attainment under this or any other government.

WHO SHALL IT BE?

Politicians are telling President Taft that if he is to be nominated again he ought to make known at an early date his choice of a running mate. It is safe to say he will not name the present incumbent in the vice presidential office, James Schoolcraft Sherman, the chief of reactionaries in New York state.

The Taft campaign for re-election will run into dangerous waters often enough without making sure of hitting the shoals with "Sunny Jim" on board as assistant pilot. With all his inaptitude for and ignorance of practical politics, President Taft must surely have learned enough in the school of bitter experience during the last three years to show him the urgent necessity of keeping Vice President Sherman off the ticket.

True, if Taft is renominated it means another reactionary for running mate, but his campaign managers can certainly dig up another candidacy less obnoxious to the rank and file of Republicans all over the country than Sherman's would be. A ticket headed by Taft and Sherman would be practically doomed to defeat from the date of its making and the "practical men" at the head of the Republican machine know this quite well as the country at large.

A bluff is being put up to run Sherman for governor of New York, thus giving him the opportunity to get gracefully out of the way of President Taft and the Republican national committee. But the Republicans of New York state, no more than the Republicans of the nation at large, desire to have their ticket handicapped by this ultra reactionary.

The real play of the Republican national leaders will be to hook some known progressive on as tail to the Taft kite. And while this would be a wise and practical solution of the vexing question of slate making, yet the party leaders realize the importance of catching the bird before caging him.

What Republican progressive with the real progressive stuff in him wants or would accept under pressure the second place on the ticket? Would Cummins of Iowa? Would Murdock or Bristow of Kansas? Would Garfield of Ohio? Would La Follette of Wisconsin? Scarcely.

The president and his managers will most likely be compelled to select his running mate from the ranks of the Lodges and Penroses and Burrows and Aldriches, from the same ranks from which he has chosen most of his advisers and to whom he has gone for most of his policies for the past three years. It may be that "Sunny Jim" will be compelled to make the race once more, but even the reactionaries will acquiesce in his selection with wry faces and dark misgivings.

Governor Harmon and Governor Wilson are both agreed on the proposition that President Taft ought to be beaten, but they differ as to the best man to do the job with.

MEXICAN REVOLT SPREADS RAPIDLY

Monterey, Mexico, Dec. 25.—General Geronimo Trevino has asked the war department to relieve him of the command of this military zone, embracing the states of Nuevo Leon, Coahuila and Tamaulipas.

Another revolutionary proclamation bearing the signature of General Reyes is being circulated in this part of the country. It purports to have been issued at Soledad, Tamaulipas, at which place the rebel proclamation was issued a few weeks ago. The new one reads in part as follows:

"The undersigned will assume the title of provisional president with power to make war on the spurious existing administration till such time as the revolution shall triumph, after which, taking into his council the leaders of the movement, he will name a president ad interim who shall convoke general elections.

"Such state governors as shall subscribe to this platform shall continue to exercise their several duties, seconded by the military commander of highest rank operating in their respective states. In such states the authorities of which shall resist this platform or be in any way hostile to it the political and military head will be the officer of highest rank, and if there should be two or more of equal rank, the question shall be decided by the rules of military precedence.

"Civilians recruiting troops in districts in which there is no military to confer rank on them, may assume a rank corresponding to the number of men recruited. Officers and commanders in the revolution will enjoy their ranks so long as the revolution may last, and on being mustered out will be given a certificate by the corresponding department giving them precedence in the making up of the personnel of the administration. The same will hold with the soldiers in the ranks.

"The insignia of the revolutionary troops, or, as they shall be designated, 'constitutionalists,' shall be a red band on the hat or on the left arm.

"The revolution promises the revision of the stamp law, the moderation of taxes, and to restore the free zone along the northern frontier."

INNOCENT MAN GIVEN PARDON

CASE MOST REMARKABLE

Patient With Brain Exposed Converses With Physicians.

Lynn, Mass., Dec. 25. — Steven Svaritsch, who was struck by a steam fan in a factory, astounded the physicians at the Lynn hospital by regaining consciousness and conversing sanely with them while his brain lay exposed under an extremely delicate operation. The blade of the fan so injured his skull that when he arrived at the hospital he was considered to be dying and his one chance lay in removing a piece of the skull two inches wide and three inches long. Anesthetics were not administered, his condition being such that to give ether, it was stated, would result in death. The surgeons began the removal of the bone and had exposed the brain when the young man suddenly began to talk with the doctors.

He explained that he was struck by the fan and that he had lain unconscious for two hours before he was discovered. The surgeons were dumfounded, and afterward reported that while he has a very slight chance of recovery, his case is considered hopeful.

TO TEST ROSE LAW

Ashtabula Will Start Two Saloons Although Town Is Dry.

Ashtabula, O., Dec. 25.—This city may soon have saloons in operation here in spite of the fact that the county recently voted dry. It is reported that adherents of the wet cause may soon open two saloons on the grounds that the city voted wet in the recent election and is entitled to have saloons restored. The purpose of the action will be to test the Rose law. It is understood that brewery interests are back of the local men who are planning to test the law and promise to furnish them enough money to fight the case in the higher courts.

Put Blame On Anarchists.

Paris, Dec. 25.—The police are still without clews to the two latest mysteries of Paris, the robbery and attempted murder of a bank messenger in a public thoroughfare in broad daylight, and the attempt to steal the jewels from the tomb of Mme. Lanteime. Five anarchists are missing from their Mont Martre haunts and it is thought possible that they are the men who robbed and tried to kill the bank messenger.

PEOPLES' FORUM

A COSTLY EXPERIMENT

Editor The Tribune:—

We Virginia township people who were in Coshocton last Saturday saw more drunkenness than during the last three years.

The people have surely been misled. The idea has been promulgated that the devil could be clothed with fine colors, and that the outlawed traffic could be purified and beautified and dignified with a semblance of decency.

This can never be done. The devil is still a devil. Coshocton county must suffer from the effects of her mistake socially, spiritually, and assuredly, financially. It will cost Coshocton at least $150,000 in money to maintain this evil, and it must be done out of legitimate lines of business; and what will be the demands on the virtue, honor and manhood of our county if her people maintain these works of the Evil One.

O, why is it, that with all our boasted virtue and high state of civilization we cannot see this putrefying evil eating away the very life of our nation's possibility? Why do we, as the handiwork of an All Wise Being sit calmly by and see this demon of intemperance reach out and take our boys and girls and all those things we love for their purity and nobleness and debase and destroy them for all eternity?

Pardon me if I say that from any viewpoint we may take it is the height of folly to allow this business to continue. First, it is not necessary. It retards the growth of the necessary and legitimate business of our country. No man under the influence of intoxicating drink or subject to its effects can be at his best.

No nation can pay the tribute that this most loathsome business demands, and at heart respect herself.

Can we respect ourselves as parents if we allow this demon to continue to disgrace and destroy this, the best country in the world that was bought and consecrated by the shedding of precious blood of our forefathers who died to give us a free and pure nation?

I would be pleased to be considered an enemy of the saloon and to be classified with those who are working for a purer and better nation and home.

NEGRO ASSAULTS AND KILLS GIRL

Morgantown, W. Va., Dec. 25.—The young daughter of A. B. Peters was assaulted, shot and killed yesterday at her home in Cassaway, a mining town in Preston county, by an unknown negro. The authorities and posse are trailing the murderer with bloodhounds in the mountain districts. The murder was one of the most brutal in the history of the state. The negro came from the mining country of western Pennsylvania, where he is said to have learned of the Peters family.

He went to the Peters home and was ordered away, but he returned again and was permitted to sleep in the kitchen. He arose before the members of the family were up and assaulted and killed the girl.

THEATRE

THE FIGHTING PARSON

How would you like to see your pastor leave his pulpit to fight a champion prize fighter? This is what the parson in the play of "The Fighting Parson" is compelled to do in order to protect himself and his people. He is compelled to do a lot of other things which would take too long to write about, but if you will go and see him at the Sixth Street Theatre on Wednesday, Dec. 27 you will understand much better than I can write it.

A PLAY WORTH WHILE

Beyond the historic city of Denver away from the noise and the crowds, some forty miles to the westward, a lone towering peak, nearly, 8,000 feet high, rises out of the valley, and in the distance is Centerville, Colorado, a typical western mining camp clinging to its side.

Not a dreary, desolate mountain neither do we find an isolated camp of tiresome people, on the contrary, Centerville has interesting characters, men and women from all parts of the globe, Americans, Mexicans, Spaniards, cowboys, miners, in fact every nationality represented.

What a beautiful setting for a real American play, thought Jerome Harrington, dramatist, as he viewed the wondrous beauty of this veritable nature's playground And here it is that the principal scenes of "A Cowboy's Honor" are laid.

"A Cowboy's Honor" is offered this season by a splendid cast, coming to the Sixth Street Theatre Thursday, Dec. 28, and will doubtless prove one of the best plays of the year at popular prices

'THE GIRL AND CHAUFFEUR'

Unwonted laudatory comment has been evoked in New York and Boston for the girlified musical play, "The Girl and the Chauffeur" which comes to the Sixth Street Theatre Saturday, Dec. 30. The Boston World termed the big race effect one of unqualified success. The New York newspapers generally hailed it as a revelation of ingenious mechanical skill and tuneful music. "He's the Chauffeur" is one of the big musical hits. One of the real spectacular effects of this new idea play is the motor race between drivers of two rival factories. There are three acts and eight scenes, and in order to present the production identically as seen in New York, it takes an augmented working staff to handle it. A well gowned chorus is used to properly present some of the tuneful music of this comedy.

Josh House is Wrecked

Portland, Ore., Dec. 25.—Portland's Chinatown took its final step toward complete regeneration when a number of young Chinese broke into the new Joss house, and with ax and crowbars deliberately destroyed 12 sacred figures, defiled the sacred tea and wrecked the ornaments. The damage will amount to between $20,000 and $30,000.

Hundreds of Chinese of the younger and the older generations crowded about the beheaded and disemboweled figures, some swearing vengeance upon their violators and others looking upon the wreckage with broad grins and distinct chuckles.

The Chinese of the two factions swear that the matter is not yet ended.

From the point of view of the older generation, the wrecking of the Joss house means the ruining of the lives of the despoilers and, further, presents a dread question of how the older generation may survive the coming year.

Chinese New Year will soon come and, without the josses the worshipers of Buddha and members of the older set will be unable to ask for favors for the forthcoming year.

New josses can be obtained only from China—home-made figures do not suffice. Therefore the believers in the old form of worship look upon the year to come with much dismay.

Turkey Dinners for All

Christmas Cheer Pervaded All State Institutions.

Columbus, O., Dec. 25. The state of Ohio did well by its wards today, turkey dinners, with all the "fixin's," from cranberry sauce to pumpkin pie, being served at all the state institutions.

Inmates of the penitentiary this morning were treated to a vaudeville entertainment put on in the chapel by thespians who have run afoul of the law. Patients at the state hospital also attended a home talent entertainment and Christmas tree parties were held in each of the 10 wards of the institution.

Students of the state school for the deaf were taken to moving picture shows during the afternoon and evening.

Retired Grocer Kills Self.

CHINESE BRIGANDS ARE BUSY

Hardin, Manchuria, Dec. 25.—A band of Chinese brigands today attacked an imperial convoy which was on its way to Kirin with a large amount of bullion. The robbers carried off a sum of $85,000. The number of brigands in the province of Kirin has increased rapidly since the beginning of the political disturbances and the consequent unsettled condition of all parts of the country. Many soldiers have deserted from the army and have joined the ranks of the brigands and now live openly by plunder. Murders occur frequently along the high roads and the brigands even attack settlements of considerable size in which they loot the stores and do not hesitate to murder the inhabitants if they offer any resistance.

Santa Visits Briceville.

Knoxville, Tenn., Dec. 25.—A mammoth Christmas tree for the 200 or more children made fatherless by the Cross mountain explosion of Dec. 9 was given at Briceville. The gifts consisting of clothing, toys and confections, were purchased with funds contributed especially for the purpose by men, women and children in many states.

ROCHESTER, N. Y.

Nancy A. Herrick, being duly sworn, deposes and says: When I was a girl, I had a head of heavy, long, dark brown hair which was the envy of my schoolmates, and which attracted the attention and remarks of strangers. As I grew older, my hair commenced to come out, just a little at first, but gradually more and more, and then began to turn gray. I was induced by the many good reports I had heard of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy to try a bottle. My hair was quite thin and gray when I began using Sage and Sulphur, and you can imagine my satisfaction when I found that it was fast coming back to its natural condition, being thicker, darker and more glossy than it had been for a long time. I continued to use Sage and Sulphur, and my hair is now as heavy, dark and smooth as when I was a girl of sixteen. It is now four years since I commenced using Sage and Sulphur, and my hair is still in splendid condition.

Philadelphia, Dec. 25.—Plans were laid at the meeting of the majority members of the executive committee of what was Division 477 of the Amalgamated Street and Electric Railway Employes of America, to continue as a union irrespective of the taking away of their charter by the international officials at Detroit. MUCH SPECULATION.

Scott Expedition Expected to Reach South Pole by Christmas.

London, Dec. 25.—It is recalled that before he sailed, Captain Robert F. Scott, leader of the British Antarctic expedition, expressed the hope that with good luck he would spend Christmas at the south pole, and there is much speculation as to whether time will prove that he has done it. Lieutenant Sir E. H. Shackleton, the explorer, in discussing the matter, said he thought it at least possible that Scott and Captain Paul Amundsen had both arrived at the pole, and especially in view of the competition, but no news from these men is expected before March There are now five exploring parties seeking the south pole and the rivalry is very keen.

DAILY FASHION TALKS

BY MAY MANTON

A PRETTY AND PRACTICAL APRON.

THE apron that is both pretty and practical is one with many advantages. Here is a model that is both and at the same time it is so simple that it means very little labor for the making. The sleeves and the body portion are cut in one, so that there is no fitting to the armholes to be done, yet there are seams over the shoulders and the material is straight at both front and back. In the illustration white lawn is trimmed with blue, but all the materials that are used for little girls' aprons are available for this one, and it can be made in three different ways, after the manner illustrated on the figure, with high neck and long sleeves and standing collar or with high neck and round collar, as shown in the small front view. It can be made with or without a belt. For playtime and really hard usage, chambray, gingham or percale made as shown in the back view would be excellent. For school and such occupations as require protection for the frock yet do not actually menace the entire garment the little apron illustrated is in every way desirable. It would be pretty made from linen or from any similar material. Cross stitch embroidery is greatly in vogue and is very pretty on aprons. This one made of white linen with the bands embroidered in a little cross stitch design would be childish and attractive, yet such embroidery means very slight expenditure of time and effort. The front can be cut in one piece or in two, with a seam in the center, as best suits the material. The back edges are finished with hems and the pockets are arranged on indicated lines.

7143 Child's Apron, 2 to 8 years.

For the 6 year size will be required 2½ yards of material 27, 2 yards 36 inches wide with ½ yard 27 inches wide for the trimming.

A May Manton pattern, No. 7143, sizes 2 to 8 years, will be mailed to any address, by the Fashion Department of this paper, on receipt of ten cents.

Q.—Why did the Lord say to Adam, "Cursed is the ground FOR THY SAKE?" Will the "curse" ever be removed?

Answer.—There is a depth of meaning in the words, "for Thy sake," that has never been so apparent as in these latter days. It is well for the race that in its fallen state of selfishness and evil, it has had to contend with the harsh conditions brought about in the earth by the curse. Men are more contented and satisfied when actively engaged in some form of labor, contending against the things that would hinder them from attaining the goal of their ambitions. It is also true that where one is employed the temptations of life are greatly lessened. "Idleness is the mother of vice." is a true saying recognized by all. Work, not excessive toil, is a blessing and therefore, for man's sake, the Lord arranged that man should live by the sweat of his brow. The curse is to be removed when the race of mankind has been made perfect and all of the inherited meanness and selfishness eradicated from the human heart. Then the race will no longer need to be under the sentence to hard labor and imprisonment in death, but will delight in doing good and practising the precepts of love and justice. Just as the earth now produces spontaneously the briars and thorns and thistles and weeds, so then it will produce the fruits and flowers in abundance. The entire earth is to become as the Garden of Eden, for "the desert shall bloom and blossom as the rose, and streams shall break forth in the wilderness," and "the earth shall yield her increase." "There shall be no more curse."—Revelation xxii, 3.

FOR SECOND TIME NO WEDDING BELLS

Washington, Pa., Dec 25.—Miss Louise Timmins, a seventeen-year-old girl of Mt. Hope, who preferred fun to a wedding, and failed to appear here at the appointed time to marry Herrman Webb, of West Virginia, on Thanksgiving day, now knows how unpleasant it is to be treated in that manner, for Webb has paid her back in her own coin.

Webb, who is 23 years old, met the girl last fall and they become engaged Thanksgiving day was the date set for the wedding, and Webb came here to meet the girl to have the ceremony performed. She had gone on a visit to West Alexander, and set word to Webb who was at the church, waiting for her, that she was having such a good time, the wedding could wait.

Webb became angry and called off the engagement. Tuesday he called on Miss Timmins and they patched up their differences and the girl agreed to come here yesterday and marry Webb.

The prospective bride and groom and the parents and friends of Miss Webb started to Washington for the ceremony. When they reached the altar Webb had disappeared and there was no wedding.

Some persons suggested to the girl that she and Webb make another attempt to get married.

"There will be no third time," said the girl.

FIVE YEARS FOR MURDERING WIFE

Mt. Vernon, Dec. 25. Five years in the penitentiary for killing. This was the sentence imposed on Ellsworth Dailey for shooting and killing his wife in this city last July. There were no witnesses to the crime. Dailey was found guilty of manslaughter in a trial lasting but four hours, the speediest trial for such an offense that ever took place in Knox county. Judge Seward imposed sentence.

Provisions of Aldrich's Plan

Washington, Dec. 25. — President Taft's indorsement of the Aldrich plan for changing the banking and currency laws is expected to bring the subject sharply to the attention of congress at this session, with the possibility, at least, that some action will be taken before adjournment on the report of the national monetary commission. The commission will submit its report to congress early in January. Present indications are that the report will have the signatures of every member of the commission regardless of party affiliations, with the possible exception of Representative Pujo of Louisiana, a Democrat. The fact that the report will be signed by Democrats as well as Republicans will go far toward removing this important question from politics.

Former Senator Aldrich has been obliged to yield on some features of his proposed plan of currency reforms, notably on the provision relating to the amount of strength that may be held by holding companies in the reserve associations. As this provision was originally framed the fear was expressed that it would enable large financial interests to gain a control that would be inimical to the public welfare. Changes have been made, with the acquiescence of Mr. Aldrich, that have removed the possibility of further trouble on this score. Senator Burton of Ohio, a member of the commission, has made a statement in which he points out what the commission report will seek to accomplish, and denies that the proposed measure will be in the special interest of Wall street.

"This plan," says Senator Burton, "in brief, provides for a reserve association, the capital stock for which can be subscribed only by banks of the country. It is expected that this association will be the fiscal agent of the government and will take over the deposits now lodged in the treasury and the subtreasuries and assume the responsibility of meeting the obligations of the government. All banks which subscribe to the stock must become members of an association of banks not less than 10 in number and having a combined capital or surplus of not less than $5,000,000. These local associations are also to be grouped into 15 divisions.

Resembles Europe Banks.

"In some respects, such as the proposed function of the fiscal agent of the government, this institution would resemble the central banks of Europe. It would also possess the privilege, now granted to the national banks, of issuing circulating notes, but in other respects it is widely distinguished from a central bank. Its capital is held exclusively by banks and it does not enter into competition with the existing banking institutions of the country. This was one great objection made to the old United States bank.

"As regards the danger of concentration of power, the advocates of the reserve association point to the fact that Wall street and the great financial centers now exercise an influence over credit and rates of interest which would be impossible under the proposed plan, which has divers provisions to prevent the lodgment of control in Wall street or with the great banks of the country.

"There are to be local associations of banks, three-fifths of the directors of which are to be elected by the banks which are members, each having one vote without reference to size, so that the bank of $25,000 capital has just as much voting power as one of $5,000,000. The remaining two-fifths of the directors are elected in accordance with the stock holding."

While the advocates of the Aldrich plan are hopeful of action at this session, they are not sanguine. Both parties are preparing for a struggle on the tariff, which promises to be the most prominent issue of the campaign of 1912. For this reason it is felt that there will be little opportunity for consideration at this time of a question as large as currency reform.

Morse Turned Down.

Washington, Dec. 25.—Charles W. Morse, the convicted New York banker, now a federal prisoner at Atlanta, did not receive a commutation of his sentence as a Christmas present from President Taft, as he and his friends have been hoping. The president decided that executive clemency in Morse's case would not be justified by the reports on Morse's condition received from the army surgeons at the post hospital at Fort McPherson, who are now treating him.

Persian Parliament Dissolved.

Teheran, Dec. 25.—The cabinet sent a note to the Russian legation confirming its oral acceptance of the terms of the ultimatum. M. Pokievsky, the Russian minister, accepted the Persian reply, which is unconditional. The regent, on the advice of the cabinet, has dissolved the mejliss or parliament.

STARTS AS NEWSBOY

Ed Jackson Dies Leaving Estate of More Than a Million.

San Angelo, Tex., Dec. 25.—Ed Jackson, who began his career 35 years ago as a newsboy in Kansas City and later worked as a sheep herder in west Texas, died, leaving an esate of more than $1,000,000 in land and cattle.

Jackson was 50 and a bachelor. A legal contest is expected over the distribution of the estate. It is understood that he has bequeathed the sum of $100,000 to a penniless Mexican washwoman and her two small children. Jackson was one of the most picturesque characters of west Texas, likewise one of the most eccentric. He supported his widowed mother by the sale of newspapers in Kansas City. They had removed to Kansas City from Kentucky when he was 10 years old. Later he worked as a street lamp cleaner in Kansas City and the two managed to save enough to remove to Austin, where the boy drove a streetcar and supported his mother.

In 1880 Jackson came to San Angelo and herded sheep at a salary of $10 per month, taking his pay out in sheep from his employer. Two years later he had a flock of his own, and in 1885 he took 100 sections of land from the state, which he sold for $300,000 in 1898 to St. Louis parties. His only relative is a half-sister, Mrs. W. L. Caldwell of Sonora.

REORGANIZING UNCLE SAM'S ARMY

Hearings Before House Committee Be Resumed Jan. 3.

Washington, Dec. 25.—It is apparent that the entire question of reorganizing the army has been reopened and will not be settled without a long series of hearings by the house military affairs committee, of which Representative James Hay of Virginia is chairman. The hearings have been discontinued until Jan. 3, when Major General Wood and Mr. Stimson, secretary of war, will be heard.

BIG RUSH TO GOLD FIELD

Two Hundred Venture With Thermometer 40 Degrees Below Zero.

Dawson City, Alaska, Dec. 25.—Defying death, 200 more prospectors left here today for the newly-discovered gold fields at the head of Sixty Mile river.

It is 40 degrees below zero here and the trip to the new gold field is 130 miles, but that did not deter the daring prospectors.

The new field is said to be richer even than were the sands around Dawson. The ground runs from $8 to $40 a foot, and more than one pan worth $100 has been washed out.

Dawson is enjoying a Christmas such as it saw in the first days of the big rush into this country. Every man who can raise the price of dogs and a sledge is either on his way to the new fields or is busy preparing to start.

There are already several hundred men in the new fields or on their way. Supplies for saloons, gambling houses, a hotel and a general store are being rushed over the trail to the new camp, which is yet to be named.

FEELS ABOVE SURROUNDING

Head of Holy Ghost and Us Society Contented In Prison.

Rockland, Me., Dec. 25.—The family of Rev. Frank W. Sandford, who entered upon his 10 years sentence in the federal prison at Atlanta last week, will not spend the winter at Shiloh. Although no announcement has been made to that effect it is probable that Mrs. Sandford and her children may go to Georgia and live in close proximity to the prison during Sandfords' term of imprisonment.

Writing to a personal friend in this city Mrs. Sandford says: "Mr. Sandford cheered my heart with two encouraging letters on his journey south. He said the officials showed him the greatest kindness, allowing him to go unbound when the other two prisoners were in chains. He wrote in his letter that there was no iron in the iron and no prison in the prison, he felt so far above his surroundings."

Shanghai, Dec. 25. Amos Parker Wilder, the American consul general here, is watching the peace negotiations closely. He has had long experience in China, having been the consul general at Hongkong for three years before he came here in 1909. Mr. Wilder was formerly a newspaper man in Connecticut and New York, but was editor of a paper in Madison, Wis., when he entered the consular service. He still calls Madison his home.
